

Flashless

Useless Coding

useless.github.com/flashless — A WebKit plug-in to display preview images for Flash based video services and block the rest.

Version 2.0.2

- Increased reliability of the YouTube, Flickr and Blip.tv services
- Reenabled downloads from TwitVid

Version 2.0.1

- Improved downloads for blip.tv, Vimeo, Flickr, and YouTube

Version 2.0

- Increased performance and various usability enhancements

Installation

Quit Safari. Drag the icon labeled Flashless.webplugin from the disk image to the icon labeled Internet Plug-Ins. You can now relaunch Safari. Done.

Note: This will install Flashless for all users. To install just for the current user, copy Flashless.webplugin to `~/Library/Internet Plug-Ins` instead.

Usage

For content from a supported video services a preview image of the video is displayed. The name of the service is displayed in the lower right corner.

You can use the Command, Option, Shift, or Control key to jump to the original video site, download the video, play without Flash, or show the menu, respectively. Not all features are available for all sites.
